To help you make sense of your benefit statement the various sections are explained here. The statement shows your Fund Credit and the benefits provided by your Fund as at the date of the statement.

This section contains your personal information such as your name, identity number, date of birth, membership number and the date you joined the Fund. It also shows your pensionable monthly salary/wages.

This section shows your and your employer's contributions to the Fund over the period of this statement as well as the growth/interest you received.

It also shows the costs deducted. These costs are for risk benefits (death, disability and funeral benefits) and administration fees (including actuarial, FSB levies, etc) deducted from the employer's contributions on a monthly basis.

If you transferred money from another Fund or made additional contributions to the Fund it will be shown here.

Your total retirement saving amount at the date of the statement is shown here.

Your money is invested according to the Fund's Investment Policy in order to make it grow.

This block shows how your money has grown since your previous statement.

The Fund updates member benefits with the full monthly investment returns (growth) earned by investments each month.

The administrator uses your net monthly contributions (after costs are deducted) to buy units in the Fund portfolio you are invested in at the latest unit price which is available. This not only ensures better governance and running of the Fund, but transparency is also improved.

Remember that the unit price will go up or down depending on what happens in the investment markets.

Here you see the benefit you will receive if you leave the Fund. When you leave you will receive your accumulated Fund Credit as a benefit.

This section shows the lump sum death benefit your dependants and nominees will receive if you die whilst in service. If you have no dependants the benefit will be paid to your nominated beneficiaries. It is therefore important to complete the Beneficiary Nomination form in order to identify your dependants and beneficiaries.

This section shows the benefit you will receive should you become disabled.

In the event that you become disabled or terminally ill you will receive your Fund Credit plus a cash lump sum of 3x your annual salary.

Funeral benefits cover the main member the spouse and the direct children of the main member. See the benefit amounts for each family member.

In the event of a member's death outside the normal place of residence the benefit will also pay towards the cost of transporting the deceased to a location in their home town.
